

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

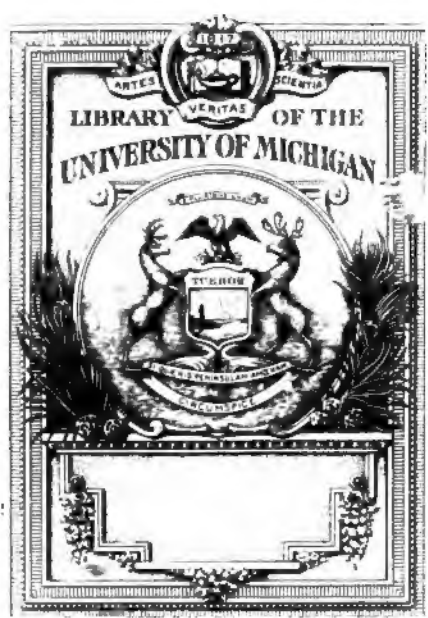

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. SUMMARY OF LIBRARY RULES.

Any person over 12 years of age residing within the corporate limits of Jersey City, or paying taxes therein, is entitled to the free use of the Library, and may draw books therefrom for home use by signing an agreement to observe the Rules and Regulations of the Board of Trustees, and furnishing satisfactory reference as to fitness to enjoy the library privileges. Such reference must be a Real Estate Owner, or a Business or Professional Person resident of or engaged in business in this city.

Every person entitled to draw books from the Library will be supplied with a Borrower's Card inscribed with his or her register number. This card must be presented whenever a book is taken, returned, or renewed.

Immediate notice of a change of residence must be given to the Librarian. Neglect to do this will subject the holder of the card to a forfeiture of privileges.

Books may be retained two weeks and may be renewed for an additional week upon application to the Librarian.

A book labeled—Seven-day Book—cannot be retained more than one week, and cannot be renewed.

No books can be exchanged on the same day they are taken out, unless a mistake has been made by the Library attendants.

On application a book belonging to the Library, not in when applied for, will be retained for 24 hours, and notice of its return will be mailed to the applicant.

Any person who retains a book longer than is permitted by the Regulations will be fined two cents for each day's detention (Sundays and holidays included). Delinquents will be notified through the mail on the third day after their delinquency has occurred, and again four days thereafter, and if the book is not returned on or before the expiration of the tenth day, it will be sent for by a messenger, who will be authorized to collect such fines as have already accrued thereon, and an additional fee of twenty cents for messenger service.

No book shall be issued to any person incurring a fine until the same is paid.

Writing in or marking books or periodicals, even for mere correction of typographical errors, tearing or turning down leaves, and all other defacements, are strictly prohibited, and all injuries to books, periodicals, or other Library property shall be adjusted to the satisfaction of the Librarian.

PREFACE.

This work, as its name implies, is a list of the books contained in the Library, so arranged under their respective authors, titles, and subjects, in alphabetical order, that any volume and its call-number may readily be found. For the convenience of readers, as well as for economic reasons, works of Fiction will be found only under authors, in their alphabetical order, and titles, alphabetically arranged under the subject heading Fiction. Cross-references from subject entries, proper names, pseudonyms, etc., have been carefully inserted wherever their use has been thought necessary.

The Trustees feel that they were extremely fortunate in securing the services of Mr. George Watson Cole, from the Newberry Library, of Chicago, as Librarian, and Miss Esther E. Burdick, a graduate of the Library School at Albany, N. Y., as Head Cataloguer, under whom, on March 3d, the present efficient staff was organized.

The Library was opened July 6, 1891, with 15,544 volumes on its shelves, and 325 daily, weekly, monthly, and quarterly magazines and newspapers in the Reading Room. A temporary Fiction List, made up of advanced sheets of the titles of Fiction alphabetically arranged, was separately printed in order to accelerate the opening of the Library pending the completion of the present work.

The Library is classified by the Decimal Classification of Prof. Melvil Dewey, of Albany, N. Y., to whom we are indebted for the privilege of reprinting the following Synopsis.

Supplemental Lists of new books added to the Library will appear at regular intervals and may be procured at the Delivery Desk.

The selection and purchase of the books, the preparation of the Accession Catalogue, Shelf and Finding Lists, have alone necessitated over 100,000 intelligent entries. When in addition to this is taken into consideration the labor involved in the classification of the Library, the furnishing and equipment of the Library and Reading Room, and selection of periodicals and newspapers for the latter, and that this has been done in less than five months, some idea of the magnitude of the work performed may be realized.

By the completion and publication of this Finding List, the resources of the Library are now made available to the public, and our citizens are to be congratulated that the establishment of a Free Public Library in Jersey City is at last an accomplished fact.

LEONARD J. GORDON,

President.

DIRECTIONS.

Books the call-number of which is preceded by the letter "R" cannot be drawn from the Library except by the special permission of the Librarian, but may at all times be consulted in the Reference Room.

The letter "J" is prefixed to the call-number of books especially adapted to young readers.

In applying for books, write plainly on the call-slip several numbers in the order of preference; the first book on the list that is in, will be brought by the attendant, and the slip will be returned to the borrower for future use.

Secretary, GEORGE WATSON COLE, Librarian.

SUMMARY OF LIBRARY RULES.

Any person over 12 years of age residing within the corporate limits of Jersey City, or paying taxes therein, is entitled to the free use of the Library, and may draw books therefrom for home use by signing an agreement to observe the Rules and Regulations of the Board of Trustees, and furnishing satisfactory reference as to fitness to enjoy the library privileges. Such reference must be a Real Estate Owner, or a Business or Professional Person resident of or engaged in business in this city.

Every person entitled to draw books from the Library will be supplied with a Borrower's Card inscribed with his or her register number. This card must be presented whenever a book is taken, returned, or renewed.

Immediate notice of a change of residence must be given to the Librarian. Neglect to do this will subject the holder of the card to a forfeiture of privileges.

Books may be retained two weeks and may be renewed for an additional week upon application to the Librarian.

A book labeled—Seven-day Book—cannot be retained more than one week, and cannot be renewed.

No books can be exchanged on the same day they are taken out, unless a mistake has been made by the Library attendants.

On application a book belonging to the Library, not in when applied for, will be retained for 24 hours, and notice of its return will be mailed to the applicant.

Any person who retains a book longer than is permitted by the Regulations will be fined two cents for each day's detention (Sundays and holidays included). Delinquents will be notified through the mail on the third day after their delinquency has occurred, and again four days thereafter, and if the book is not returned on or before the expiration of the tenth day, it will be sent for by a messenger, who will be authorized to collect such fines as have already accrued thereon, and an additional fee of twenty cents for messenger service.

No book shall be issued to any person incurring a fine until the same is paid.

Writing in or marking books or periodicals, even for mere correction of typographical errors, tearing or turning down leaves, and all other defacements, are strictly prohibited, and all injuries to books, periodicals, or other Library property shall be adjusted to the satisfaction of the Librarian.

United States.

Works under this heading are divided into two classes: 1. those in which the United States, or some branch of the government, is treated as the author, and 2. works which treat of the United States or some part of it, as a subject.

1. All government publications are entered directly under the bureaus or offices to departments, which are responsible for their publication, instead of being subordinated to the Department, for example:—United States—Pension Office, and not, United States—Interior Department—Pension Office.

Entries will be found under the following headings:—

LIST OF PERIODICALS

CONTAINED IN THE FREE PUBLIC LIBRARY OF JERSEY CITY, MARCH 1, 1893, WHICH ARE INDEXED IN POOLE'S INDEX TO PERIODICAL LITERATURE.

There have been added to the Library within the past year about one hundred sets of bound periodicals, all of which are indexed in Poole's Index to Periodical Literature, and its continuations. This collection is of the greatest value to those pursuing investigations in almost any field of knowledge. Thousands of subjects upon which no books have been written are often treated at considerable length in the periodicals, while many of the questions of the day, of too recent occurrence to appear in book form, are found only in the current numbers of our best magazines and reviews.

The extent and character of the field covered by periodical literature is happily expressed by Dr. William F. Poole, Librarian of the Newberry Library, of Chicago, in the Preface to his Index, where he says:—

Periodical literature was never so rich as during the past thirty years. The best writers and the greatest statesmen of the world, where they formerly wrote a book or pamphlet, now contribute an article to a leading review or magazine, and it is read before the month is ended in every country in Europe, in America, in India, Australia, and New Zealand. Every question in literature, religion, art, politics, social science, political economy, and in many other lines of human progress, finds its latest and freshest interpretation in the current periodicals. No one can thoroughly investigate any of these questions without knowing what the periodicals have said and are saying concerning them.

Copies of Poole's Index are kept in the Reference Room, where they may be freely consulted by all readers. This work is arranged alphabetically like a dictionary. Any one desiring to look for information on any topic has but to consult the Index as he would a dictionary to find the word for which he is in search. Having found it he should copy such references as interest him, taking care to include only such as are covered by the following list, and hand the slip to an attendant who will provide him with the volumes desired.
